*Spooner verses McConnell, 22 F. 939, 943;
Julliard verses Greenman: 110 U.S. 421, (1884).*

"The sovereignty of a state does not reside in the persons who fill the different departments of its government, but in the People, from whom the government emanated; and they may change it at their discretion. Sovereignty, then in this country, abides with the constituency, and not with the AGENT; and this remark is true, both in reference to the federal and state government."

[Spooner verses McConnell, 22 F. 939, 943].

"There is no such thing as a power of inherent sovereignty in the government of the United States .... In this country sovereignty resides in the people, and Congress can exercise no power which they have not, by their Constitution entrusted to it: All else is withheld."
